

Senior Energy Analyst

November 2019

Meridian Economics provides advanced advisory and analytics capabilities, think tank services, executive-level decision support and strategic advice. We are looking to appoint a suitably qualified candidate with energy sector analysis expertise.

About Us

Meridian Economics is based in Rondebosch, Cape Town, with a diverse range of South African and international clients. We have a passion for shaping markets and industries to deliver sustainable benefits to society. We provide specialist economics advisory services in the areas of:

- Energy transition and power sector reform;
- Economic regulation;
- Commercial and civil litigation;
- Business Strategy;
- Infrastructure development; and
- Competition economics;

Our organisation is expanding rapidly with increasing involvement in high profile, strategic initiatives in the energy and climate change sector in South Africa. Our practice provides exciting opportunities to make a significant contribution to the energy transition unfolding in our country and beyond.

The position

This role will involve the following tasks:

- Develop and apply frameworks for analysis and problem solving
- Sector and market research and developing energy sector transition insights;
- Economic and energy data analysis;
- Problem analysis;
- Policy / strategy / solution design;
- Professional report writing and presentation design;
- Business development and proposal writing; and
- Client and stakeholder engagements and relationship management.

The candidate

The ideal candidate will have at least one degree in a numerate discipline and qualified up to a Master's level with excellent academic achievements and a minimum of seven years of experience in an applicable field. Sector knowledge of energy and environmental sustainability is required, as is outstanding written / spoken English, and excellent computer skills (word, excel, power point).

In addition to having the technical skills to fulfil the role, the successful candidate will also be:

- a self-starter;
- an innovative problem solver;
- an independent and critical thinker;
- committed and rigorous professional, able to deliver high quality work;
- an effective team member; and
- a skilled communicator.

What we offer

Meridian Economics provides exciting opportunities for professional exposure and the chance to work on an influential portfolio of high-profile strategic initiatives in the energy and climate sector.

Attractive market related remuneration will be negotiated based on the candidate's experience and qualifications. Our working arrangements are flexible and are designed to foster creativity.

See our website for more information:

www.meridianeconomics.co.za

<https://twitter.com/MeridianEconSA>

How to apply

Please apply at your soonest convenience.

Fill out the online application form at:

<http://tiny.cc/qtnmgz>

and

Email your curriculum vitae and cover letter to:

recruitment@meridianeconomics.co.za

Use the following file naming convention "Surname.Firstname.pdf" when you attach your CV and cover letter.

We will be evaluating applications as they are received and will indicate on our website when the post has been filled.